Maximal Depth

For example, I have a test site with a store selling apparel. I have two categories immediately under the root category; Mens Wear and Womens Wear. I have subcategories under each of these i.e., Shirts, Slacks, Shoes, etc. Under Shirts I have additional subcategories. So, I have three levels of categories.

Now, when I set the Maximal Depth to 2 only the top-level and second-level categories are displayed when hovering over the top navigation bar. The third level categories are not displayed.

However, when I click on Shirts, for example, the subcategories are displayed in the Layered Navigation box in the left-hand column.

You'll also need to set the "Is Anchor" attribute to Yes when creating the subcategories that match the Maximal Depth setting.

Setting Maximal Depth to 0 displays all categories.
